2008 IFC Hazardous Materials

The design of any building utilizing hazardous materials requires coordination between the building and fire codes. Any building or structure that might contain hazardous materials, regardless of quantity, is to comply with all applicable provisions of both codes. This document explains the application of code requirements in the 2006 International Building Code (IBC) (specifically Chapters 3 and 4) and the 2006 International Fire Code (IFC) to determine compliance for the storage, display, handling and dispensing of hazardous materials. IBC requirements that are driven by the Group H occupancy classification assigned to the building are outlined. IFC requirements that are driven by specific materials stored or used are discussed. Certain controls applicable to any materials deemed hazardous are provided.

Bring your 2006 International Building Code, the 2006 International Fire Code, and the 2008 Indiana Amendments.

International Code Council (ICC) instructors teach classes.
Students will earn 0.6 Continuing Education Units (C.E.U.) from the ICC.
